Competency Area A- Supporting a person's unique capacities, personality and potential.

Throughout the six and a half years that Margarita has worked with the person that she supports, she never stopped the discovery phase. Last month, I was on a home visit to observe how Margarita works with the Individual. While Margarita was waiting outside for the bus to pull up from program, I was able to speak with the Recipient's mother. She was excited to express how Margarita is the most patient and caring person she has ever met. She noted how Margarita was able to encourage and assist her daughter with getting off the van independently. The individual's mother explained how this was such an accomplishment and the happiness expressed on her daughter's face could not be explained in words. She explained how Margarita sees the potential in her daughter and encourages her to be as independent as possible.

Competency Area J- Showing respect for diversity and inclusion.

Margarita has respect for all cultures and religions. She lives in the Bronx and commutes to Staten Island a few times each week to work with the individual she has been supporting for six and a half years. She is extremely dedicated to her work. If another supervisor needs help with covering a case in the Bronx, Margarita is always willing to assist in any way she can. Margarita was in a situation where she was covering for another member of the staff who supported an individual of a different culture. Not only did Margarita accept the differences, she was open minded and learned a lot from the experience.
